What are you waiting for?

BEACHES AND COVES

Calpe by the Sea

Due to its Mediterranean climate, Calpe enjoys around 3,180 hours of sunshine, an average annual temperature of 18°, and only 44 cloudy days each year, making it an ideal destination where you can enjoy the sea.

It offers 13 kilometers of coastline with 14 beaches and coves, allowing you to choose from endless beaches with fine golden sand, tranquil bays, small sandy coves or pristine rocky shores by cliffs, all recognized for the purity of their clean waters, which are an unmistakable turquoise.

Arenal-Bol and La Fossa-Levante are seemingly endless sandy urban beaches where you can go for a relaxing stroll or enjoy sports and aquatic activities, which are available due to a wide variety of services and facilities.

Calpe also has over 5 km of beautiful cliffs, including the Peñón de Ifach, Toix, and La Manzanera. You'll also find lovely, tranquil coves sculpted by the wind and sea that are surrounded by vegetation, including El Penyal, Les Bassetes and El Racó, magical places where diving, fishing, and sailing become unforgettable experiences.

These charming, pristine coves are an ideal place to lose track of time, practice diving, and go fishing with their breathtaking views of the Sierra de Toix as a backdrop.

CALA MORELLÓ

An urban cove with a landscape that will transport you back in time...

A small cove with fine sand located on the paseo marítimo Infanta Elena, it gets its name because of its location next to the 19th century tower known as Torre del Molí or del Morelló. It emphasizes the presence of the site known as Baños de la Reina, a collection of structures from the Roman era that housed an ancient fish farm and some baths.

Location Paseo marítimo Infanta Elena

Length 60 m

Type of sand Fine sand

Type of waters Calm

Services

While you sunbathe at Cantal Roig beach, you can watch the boats arrive at the port at the end of the day, experience the fish auctions, or taste the local cuisine in nearby restaurants.

At El Racó cove, you'll find an underwater diving trail, the only one in the Valencian Community, with signal panels on buoys and informative signs about animal and plant species (high season only). You can learn even more by visiting the exhibition and audiovisual presentation at IMEDMAR headquarters, located in the old fish market. If you prefer, you can also go for a stroll and enjoy the sea views while on the Paseo Ecológico eco trail that starts at this cove.
